

GENERAL CARTER AROUSES PROTEST FOR UTTERANCES

Advocacy of Compulsory Military Training Prompts Complaint To Washington

CABLEGRAM FORWARDED TO SECRETARY GARRISON

Prominent Citizens Want Commander of Department Rebuked For 'Impropriety'

HONOLULU ATTACK WARRIOR Protest Made Against General Carter

Secretary of War, Washington, D. C.—Major General Carter yesterday addressed the Hawaiian legislature, advocating drastic compulsory military education. Advocates of this measure industriously seek to create impression that it is approved by war department, and is given color by the activities of General Carter. Aside from the obvious impropriety of his attempt to influence legislation, General Carter's position is believed to be inconsistent with the policy of the department, as announced in your letter of March 11 to Gen. Leonard A. Wood. It is respectfully requested that the situation that has arisen here be dealt with by you.

—Cablegram sent to Secretary Garrison yesterday by a number of Honolulu citizens.

Because Maj. Gen. William H. Carter, U. S. A., commanding the Hawaiian Department, appeared before the committee of the whole of the house of representatives on Tuesday, at the request of the chairman of the military committee, and advocated the passage of the Compulsory Military Education Bill, together with Capt. Edward K. Masse, department judge advocate, a complaint has been filed to Secretary of War Garrison, who has been asked to take up the matter.

The text of the cablegram, as quoted above, was forwarded to Washington yesterday morning. The advertiser securing a copy yesterday afternoon. The advertiser is not at liberty to state who signed the protest, but it carries the names of several well-known citizens.

General Carter, who spent yesterday afternoon at Schofield Barracks, was furnished with a copy of the cablegram, this being telephoned to headquarters at the post.

Both Representative Conroy of the house military committee and Speaker Folstein, whose bill the measure under discussion is, state that General Carter and Captain Masse appeared upon invitation of the members and are not attempting to influence legislation any more than to give their opinions as authorities concerning the question under discussion.

Their appearance at the hearing before the committee of the whole was a favor conferred upon the committee as was the trouble taken by Rear Admiral Moore in writing his letter to the committee, outlining his views on the bill. No member of the house, so far as can be learned, regards the appearance of the army men before the committee or the letter from the commander of the naval station, read before the committee, as involving interference in the legislative work or as being anything approaching a lobby.

Whether the attention of Secretary of the Navy Daniels has been called to Admiral Moore's expression of view or not has not been learned by The Advertiser, but it is not thought that this has been done.

Secretary Garrison's letter to Maj. Gen. Leonard A. Wood, referred to in the protest, was forwarded to Washington yesterday, was in respect to General Wood's announced endorsement of the formation of the "American Legion," an organization recently formed for the purpose of enrolling as members of an informal reserve those men who served in the army or navy and who are willing to respond if called upon in the event of any emergency.

In response to a telegraphed request for an explanation of the first press reports of his connection with the organization, General Wood stated that his connection with the American Legion was a conversation with Arthur S. Hoffman and Dr. J. E. Hauman, the former an editor, regarding their plans. He said he authorized his aide, Capt. Gordon Johnson, Eleventh Cavalry, to talk over the details of their proposals, assuring them that at

LAUKEA ELEVATED TO POLICE CAPTAIN

Succeeds Duke Kahanamoku, Pere, Who Resigned Under An Official Cloud

It's Captain Laukea now—from today on.

Fred H. Laukea, for some time past a sergeant of police, was elevated to the junior captaincy of the Honolulu police force yesterday, following the acceptance of the resignation of Duke Kahanamoku from that office. Laukea's commission will be handed to him by Sheriff Charles H. Rose this morning. With the commission will go the badge of police captain, the first badge of the new lot recently secured to be pinned on the manly breast of an officer.

Capt. Duke Kahanamoku resigned yesterday and his resignation was accepted by the sheriff. The late captain had been under an official cloud for some days past. Following a quiet investigation by Deputy Sheriff Julius W. Aach, Kahanamoku was told to turn in his badge. This he failed to do for two days and Kahanamoku's whereabouts during this time were a complete mystery to the police department.

When Sheriff Rose was finally forced to take a hand in the matter, Kahanamoku, dressed in civilian clothes, turned in on the scene. After a warm session with his superiors the late captain was given a chance to resign. No alternative being offered, Kahanamoku did so.

The last was Kahanamoku's second fall from grace within a few months. On the earlier occasion he saved his official neck only through the lack of discipline said to reign in the police department, but in the last instance Deputy Sheriff Aach personally took a hand in the matter and quick results were secured. In short, the charge against Kahanamoku had it been preferred and brought up for an investigation before the civil service commission, was that of conduct unbecoming an officer and man. Kahanamoku was connected with the police department for many years and for a long time was senior captain.

Capt. Fred H. Laukea has been connected with the police department for twenty years, beginning as a man on the beat and working himself upward to his present position. He is well liked and popular in police and other circles. It is, seldom, it was said last night, that promotion has been more deserved in the local police force than in the case of Laukea.

S. E. Poehs, clerk at the police station, will succeed Laukea as sergeant of police. Poehs's place at the desk will be filled shortly by some one from the available list of eligibles. M. H. Almeida, having recently resigned, substitution officer the vacancy will also be filled shortly.

Any time they desired he would submit to the department all the facts regarding their plan for helping the government.

The secretary's reply to this letter was as follows:

"I have just had an opportunity to read your report concerning your connection and that of Capt. Gordon Johnson with the American Legion. I note therefrom that your personal participation consisted of a general commendation of the proposition as stated to you, and a suggestion that your side, Captain Johnson, would help them in the matter of the proper classification and grouping of those who might join the legion."

"So far as I have been able to gather, the purpose of this organization is to list, classify, and keep track of men of suitable age who have had previous military training or possess special qualifications as to the use of arms, and a suggestion that your side, Captain Johnson, would help them in the matter of the proper classification and grouping of those who might join the legion."

"The desirability of the war department must have such information and be in a position to avail itself in time of need of the services of such persons has been recognized, and the most efficient way to accomplish this purpose has been and is being studied by it."

"Until the war department has completed its consideration of the matter and has determined upon the way to deal most effectively therewith I can assure that it is undesirable for officers of the army to have any connection with organizations outside of the war department which are dealing or contemplating dealing with the same subject matter."

Talk to Limit Activities

"For reasons which seem to me to be too obvious to require elaboration those who are in charge of the military affairs of the nation should limit their activities with respect to military or quasi-military organizations to such as are connected directly or indirectly with the war department—those over which the war department either has jurisdiction or concerning which it has a well-defined official relationship."

"I recognize as you did, that the location, classification and keeping track of this available material is of value. I had ordered studies to be made to devise a plan which would effectively place at the disposal of the war department the services of these people if they were needed. I am hopeful that the work which this organization has embarked upon will ultimately prove useful to the department, but I consider it inadvisable for any one under the jurisdiction of the war department to have connection with such private organizations."

"Much of the public comment concerning this particular organization seems to be based on a misconception of its purpose and object, but that fact merely serves to emphasize what I have said above concerning the inadvisability of those connected with the national military establishment having to do with organizations not under its jurisdiction and with which it has no official connection."

PRESIDENT YUAN WILL GET THOSE PINEAPPLES

So Will Governor-General Harrison and Other Dignitaries

Certainly Yuan Shih-kai will get that case of Hawaiian pineapples.

While the Hawaii promotion committee was in session yesterday afternoon, the Hawaiian Pineapples Packers' association telephoned to Secretary Taylor of the committee that forty cases had been voted to Kim Tong Ho, who will distribute them to President Yuan, Governor-General Harrison of the Philippines and a long list of other dignitaries, with the compliments of the islands.

Kim Tong Ho is manager of the All-Chinese baseball team, which will leave on Friday for a tour of the Orient. In addition to the pineapples he will take with him stereoscopic slides, with which to illustrate lectures he is to deliver, and a trunk full of promotion literature.

HOUSTON, Texas, March 31.—The All-Chinese baseball team of Hawaii defeated the Rice Institute team in a good game here yesterday by a 5 to 2 score.

PITCHER BILL INMAN HANDS HIS RELEASE

William Inman, known to the hometown folks as Big Bill, who paid his own way to San Francisco to tryout with the Seals as a pitcher, failed to deliver and has been handed his release by Manager Wolverton. Not that Bill was bad, but because he has much to learn regarding pitching and Manager Wolverton could not place Bill with one of the other Coast League teams and also in Northwest League, but none of them wanted the young Honoluluer.

After being handed his release, Bill stated to a Chronicle representative at Boyes Springs that he had no plans for the future, but it is presumed Bill will be back on the Honolulu lots before long, working hard, and that he will make another try next year to break into the big show.

CITY LEAGUE ELECTS OFFICIAL SPONSORS

Another baseball league has been organized to lessen the woes and increase the joy of fans and faunettes. It is the City League, definitely organized last night with Samuel S. Nott as president; Lieutenant Willis U. S. N., vice-president; Private George Watson, Company K, Second Infantry, secretary; and A. J. Thevenin, treasurer. Manager Lindo will bear the brunt of affairs. The teams that go into the league are Joseph Brothers, Fort De Russay, Honolulu City, Fort Shafter, Naval Unit and Fort Armstrong.

Joseph G. Pratt, former postmaster of this city, will open up law offices in the Magoon block, Alakea and Merchant streets. Mr. Pratt is a license practitioner. He practiced law many years ago in Hilo.

Best All-Round Athlete Is Chinese Youth of High School

By the narrow margin of eleven points the Hilo Boarding School defeated the Hilo High School in the third annual athletic meet on Wednesday last, reports the Hawaii Herald of Friday last. Some of the events were disposed of during the first week, and it remained for the final struggles to be fought out on the Boarding School athletic field on Wednesday. The C. C. Kennedy cup, presented by the well known retired capitalist, is now the property of the Hilo Boarding School.

The tennis and basketball competitions were won by the Boarding School, and the baseball by the Hilo High School. Through their victories on the courts and in the Armory, the Boarding School piled up 15 points. The Higgs were credited with 3 points through their victory at baseball. The field and track meet, therefore, began with the Boarding School in the lead through their tennis and basketball wins, by a majority of 10 points. They increased this lead by only one point on Wednesday afternoon in the track meet and their tally was 52 to 51 points—close enough for anything and exciting enough for anybody. The grand totals were: Boarding School 67; High School, 56.

The best all-around athlete of the year proved to be Henry Lai Hip, of the High School, who gathered 27 points. The second best man is Albert Kanihili, who scored 18 points. Last year Kanihili scored 32 points.

After the meet was concluded everyone adjourned to the school hall where the prizes were distributed. Mr. Warner addressed the gathering and complimented the young athletes on their good work. The winners of the various events were presented with medals in the form of watch-fobs, engraved with the record of each event. These medals were the gift of Miss Kathryn Lyman.

Mr. C. C. Kennedy, the generous donor of the silver cup, was cheered by the boys as he left the grounds in his automobile.

The officials of the meet were: Judges—Rev. Geo. Laughton, A. Lindsay, E. T. Forrest and Carl S. Carlsmith. Additional judges for various events—H. V. Patten, H. B. Mariner, C. C. Kennedy, G. F. Henshall.

In all 123 points could be scored in the annual meet. One point for third place in the pole vault was left unsecured.

The results of the whole meet, including the events held of prior to Wednesday, were as follows: Basketball—

Boarding School 31; High School 18.

Baseball—High School 12; Boarding School 2.

Tennis—Boarding School won both doubles and singles.

LIGHTFOOT GIVEN SLAP BY STUART FROM THE BENCH

Circuit Judge Tells Lawyer That He Needs No Advice Now To Run Court

INCIDENT REVEALS DEMOCRATIC SPLIT

Resignation of Clerk Pringle Shows Up Inside Features of Judiciary Patronage

Content and harmony are gone from the Bourbon ranks which have controlled the first circuit judiciary political patronage.

Judge T. B. Stuart has told Attorney J. Lightfoot that he knows how to run his court and does not need any suggestions from members of the bar. This was from his bench, too, in open court.

Other members of the bar are wondering why Judge C. W. Ashford has not rallied to the support of Judge Stuart during the recent judiciary plink.

Here are a few of the interesting facts:

On Tuesday C. D. Pringle resigned as second clerk of the third division of the first circuit court, presided over by Judge Stuart.

Pringle gave out as one of his reasons: "The only sin of which I am guilty is that I differ in political belief from those who prosecute me."

Pringle also deplored: "I realize that if the man who formerly occupied the position to which I was appointed can question the validity of my appointment collaterally, that my acts in relation to every jury given into my care, and all other official acts of mine, are liable to be questioned and to keep your court in continual trouble and its proceedings in doubt."

The probable real reason is because the supreme court has sustained the objections raised by his predecessor, M. V. Harrison, to the legality of Pringle's appointment.

Pay Is Out Of

As a result of Harrison's objections the second clerk of Judge Stuart's court has not received any pay for the months of December, January or February. Auditor Bicknell has refused to pay the salary on the advice of City Attorney Cathcart until the question was decided by court. Late yesterday afternoon Bicknell was still holding up the money, as he had not been advised of any decision to direct him.

The resignation of Pringle was made known to Judge Stuart in open court Tuesday. Judge Stuart afterwards unfolded excerpts from a mass of letters which had been exchanged in the controversy. Among these were excerpts from a letter which Judge Stuart had received from Judge Ashford and which Judge Stuart stated was considered confidential.

In those excerpts it was shown that Ashford recommended to Stuart the appointment of Pringle as clerk, in addition to other appointments within the power of Judge Stuart on his ascendancy to office. It was also shown that Harrison was "fired" by Stuart at the request of Ashford. Ashford said of Harrison: "Mr. Harrison can scarcely be said to be popular with the bar and has a somewhat morose disposition, but thaws out on more intimate contact."

Stuart declared he appointed Pringle on the nomination of Ashford. When the end of December came Bicknell held up Pringle's pay claim, the auditor deciding on advice of counsel that Harrison had not been legally disqualified to draw the salary of December. When the end of January came and Pringle applied for his salary warrant he was again denied.

In this time it was because of an objection from Harrison that Harrison had not been legally removed from office and that Pringle had not been legally appointed. At the end of February the same condition pertained and Bicknell still held on to the pay warrants.

The Lightfoot incident came up after Stuart had read all his letters and opinions and had paid glowing tribute to Pringle. With all his ponderosity Lightfoot arose and made a motion that all the documents in the incident be sent to the department of justice. Judge Stuart promptly ruled the motion out of order and told Lightfoot stiffly from the bench that he knew how to run his court and did not need any advice from any members of the bar as to what he should do or should not do.

Bicknell maintains that Pringle was not properly appointed because the appointment was not concurred in by a majority of the three circuit court judges. Judge Ashford in his letter recommended and endorsed Pringle but has never done so legally and of court record. Hence, the supreme court ruling upholding Harrison.

In the meantime Judge Stuart is without a second clerk. He has written to the other judges to meet with him and select a clerk, but Ashford is out of town. Stuart stipulates that no present or former employee of the circuit court be named.

WOOD MAY RETURN FROM COAST DUTY

SAN FRANCISCO, April 1.—(Special by Federal Wireless to The Advertiser.)—H. P. Wood, resident commissioner for Hawaii at the Exposition, has forwarded his resignation as a member of the Hawaii fair commission to Governor Pinkham. Mr. Wood made the announcement himself yesterday, after a conference with Commissioner Rivenburgh. In his letter, Mr. Wood informs the Governor that his resignation may be considered before him for acceptance, if he so desires. He also states that, in the event of the acceptance of the resignation, he wishes to recommend Mr. Rivenburgh as resident commissioner in his place.

PLANS ORIENTAL TRIP

No direct word from Mr. Wood has been received in Honolulu regarding his desire to resign, although it has been stated in letters from the Coast that he has expressed an intention of withdrawing from public activities at the close of the fair, in order that he may have time to make a leisurely tour of the Orient.

Governor Pinkham, when shown the above wireless to The Advertiser, stated that he had received no word in the matter and did not pass it in advance until what action he might take on the resignation of Mr. Wood when it does reach him.
